

The POINT!

January 2025

FINDING STRENGTH

shutterstock.com · 120165313

Entering 2025 poses some “new” challenges as we learn to deal with life without “key” people that have been there in the past. We rejoice that they are able to rest from their labors. We realize that we will need to look to God for strength and for Him to raise up others to help along the way.

Daily Bible Reading will provide the “nourishment” that will strengthen us. Ultimately it can thoroughly equip us for every good work. Praying will help us to receive blessings and assurance from God. Giving thanks, will help us maintain a positive outlook as we see how God has worked in the past. God’s Spirit will work within to develop traits that ensure greater happiness and effectiveness in our service. Fellowship with others will enlarge our “support system” through the prayers that they offer up, encouragement and advice that they can provide.

God has blessed our individual lives and collective ministry in so many ways in the past. We know that He will ensure that all things will work for our good. As bad as things might seem, we know that the ultimate reward is so great that our present struggles will seem “insignificant”.

What a blessing it is to know that God is in control and working in ways to accomplish more than we can anticipate or expect.
