God's will becomes clearer as we spend time in His Word and allow His Spirit to guide us. Corinth dealt with numerous issues, but ultimately, Paul brings them back to love and our hope in Christ. His second letter recognizes how God has worked among them and others.

Follow with us each day in the daily Bible reading and learn also about the churches in Galatia and Ephesus.

Take time to seek how God is at work among us today. You will be amazed at what He is doing!

Health, safe travels, overcoming issues are a topics we usually talk to God about. How are you doing in taking time to praise and give thanks to Him? Look at the world around you—beauty and variety of creation, people He brings into your life, ways that He is at work and consider how He wants you to respond.

Pray for others and you will discover that God will draw you closer to them in countless ways.

The World gives little likelihood of people changing. They are more prone to suggest that people are "born that way". This frees individuals from responsibility and making efforts to change.

The Bible is full of examples where people see their lives transformed.. Hard to do on our own, but amazing what God's power can do. The first two lessons in the study deal with the need to change and HOW God can make it happen. The studies following will look at examples in Scripture of lives that were changed in ways unimaginable.

We also spend time updating our prayer concerns and taking matters before God's throne.

Bill Brossman

Returns!

We are blessed with the friendship of Bill Brossman and his willingness to fill our pulpit when needed. Welcome Bill back to Pine Run on August 26 during our morning worship service. His ability to watch and observe from a distance, provides insight on How God is working among us! Evening services will be canceled that evening.

Jackalyn Anderson-Hill will also be returning that week to accompany the song service on the piano!
